Update on Standard Flood Hazard Determination Form

October 31, 2018

The renewal process of the Standard Flood Hazard Determination Form (FEMA Form 086-0-32) is in progress. Although the printed expiration date on the current version of the form reads October 31, the use of this version may continue until further notice is given about the release of the new version of the form and an appropriate period for transition. Today is the final day of the comment period to the OMB on the information collection requirements of the form. Indications are that there will be no changes with the new version of the form pending approval and release.

As in the past, we would expect FEMA to communicate via its webpage on the form about the release of the form and the transition period. CoreLogic will make necessary system updates to the new version of the form during this transition period.
