

Flood Industry Alert

Flood Updates

July 7, 2020

Public Comment Period Begins for Flood Interagency Q&A

As previously shared, the Regulators issued a prepublication draft of the Interagency Questions and Answers Regarding Flood Insurance, which has since been published in the Federal Register. This marks the opening of the 60-day public comment period which runs through September 4. You are encouraged to work internally to consider whether written comments are appropriate and to work with your respective trade associations, and other appropriate outlets, to contribute your ideas to their efforts in order to work collectively towards appropriate guidance. As a reminder, this Q&A version does not include the full guidance on private flood insurance as the Regulators “plan to issue separately for notice and comment another set of proposed Q&As relating to the private flood insurance rule” (85 FR 40445).

Mark Your Calendars! CoreLogic Virtual Roundtable For Banks and Servicers: A First Look at the Flood Interagency Q&A

As stated above, the draft of the Interagency Questions and Answers Regarding Flood Insurance has been published in the Federal Register. Join your peers to discuss the proposed Q&A, what is new, and what has changed.

CoreLogic has assembled a panel of FDPA experts from several banks to share with you their first impressions on the proposed Q&A including improvements and surprises. The panel will walk us through highlights section-by-section sharing perspectives on possible impacts to Origination, Servicing, and Compliance, including both Commercial and Residential.

- Date/Time: Thursday, July 16, 2 p.m. Eastern
- Topic: A First Look at the Flood Interagency Q&A
- Panelists: Scott Giberson, CoreLogic Flood Compliance Principal, will moderate a discussion among several bank representatives
- Registration: Be sure to mark your calendar now and we will share registration details shortly. Please note participation will be limited to CoreLogic bank and servicer clients and their partners.

This will be an open conversation among bank and servicer representatives discussing draft material; thus, it is important to note that the opinions shared by the panelists are the personal opinions of those individuals and are not necessarily consistent with the views of the bank or company he or she represents.

For our valued insurance and real estate clients, and other industry partners and friends, watch for opportunities to participate in broader discussions on the Q&A during this comment period.

If you have questions or comments, please contact us at floodcompliance@corelogic.com. Feel free to forward this alert to colleagues who may be interested in receiving this information. Individuals may also subscribe to future Industry Alerts here.

Contact Us

CoreLogic Flood Services
1825A Kramer Lane
Austin, TX 78758

This communication is for informational purposes and is not intended to (nor does it) provide legal advice. The information herein should not be used or relied upon in regard to any particular facts or circumstances without first consulting an attorney.

Any reproduction of, or modification to, any part of this notification is strictly prohibited without the prior written consent of CoreLogic Flood Services.

CORELOGIC and the CoreLogic logo are trademarks of CoreLogic, Inc. and/or its subsidiaries.
All other trademarks are the property of their respective holders.

© 2019 CoreLogic, Inc. All rights reserved.

Delivered By CoreLogic, Inc. | 40 Pacifica, Suite 900, Irvine, CA 92618

To update your email preferences or unsubscribe from all CoreLogic emails click here.

View our Privacy Policy