

New Mobile MLS App Available!

It's like your clients are standing right there

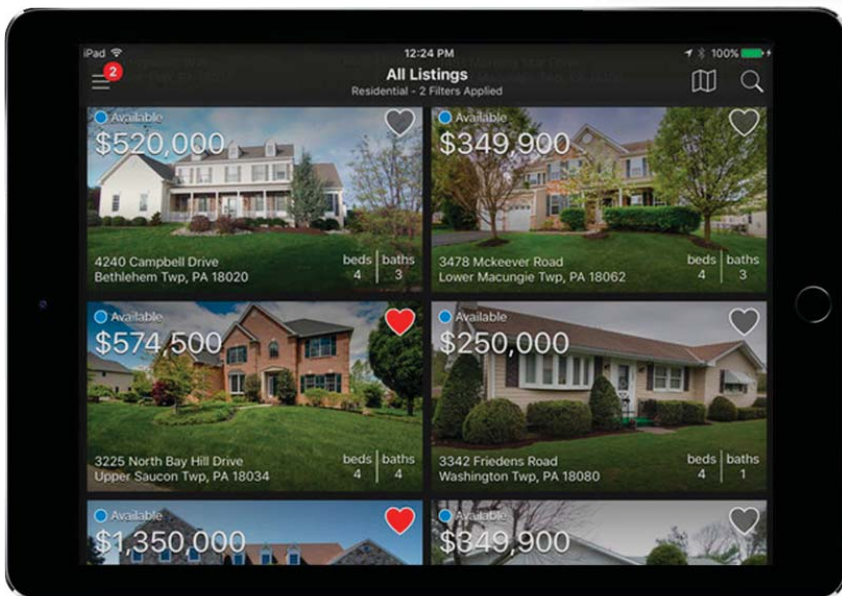

The next step forward in MLS mobility

GoMLS from CoreLogic® isn't your garden variety real estate app displaying listings, property tax data, saved searches, maps, and sharp photos—it's the next step in deepening client appreciation and loyalty. That's because GoMLS with HomeAssist is an extraordinary real time client collaboration platform allowing you to trade messages, view favorites, and act on client needs in the moment. And in today's competitive market, which has little room for error, removing confusion and delay from client communication is critical to your success. With clear, real-time collaboration taking the guesswork out of client thinking, it's a little like they're standing right there!

Highlights

- ▶ Automatic agent branding

Juggle on the go.

Your job is an endless juggling act of organizing, communicating, responding, and following up. With multiple demanding clients and heavy time in the field, you must be equipped to manage these tasks flawlessly. GoMLS with HomeAssist enables you to stay organized and sharp on the go. Well attuned to each client's real time preferences and requests, you'll solidify their perception of you delivering world class care and responsiveness! Easily share a branded Apple® or Android™ app with clients and trade texts, share listings, access data and photos—all from your smartphone or tablet.

Yes, it's that easy!

Getting on the same page with clients may sound like a challenge, but we've made it a snap with these four simple steps to get started:

Start Today

Download the GoMLS app on your mobile device from the Apple®App Store or Google Play™ Store. Select your MLS from the list and use your existing multiple listing user ID and password. Be sure to share your branded app with all your clients, friends, and family!
