InnoVia® from CoreLogic® is an easily expandable multiple listing platform that uses an intuitive browser interface for both desktop and mobile functionality. The system's easy-to-use, robust feature set includes:

Integrated Mapping

Locate properties by conducting simple “rubber band” map-based radius searches or better yet, design your own geographic “footprint” by using multiple rectangles or polygons. View properties in a variety of formats such as bird’s eye, and aerial/satellite imagery. Also included are driving directions to properties using our advanced routing feature.

Custom Search & Display Designer

Agents can easily create and save their own customized search screens utilizing only the fields they choose. The full-featured display writer allows agents to easily customize their own displays, flyers and reports.

Real-Time Prospect Portal

Keeping track of your prospects has never been easier. This powerful module brings total collaboration between agents and their prospects by providing prospective buyers with a personally branded listing cart that’s updated as the market changes. Now you can track and organize appointment requests, have quick access to showing instructions, monitor which properties a prospect is interested in and how many times they’ve actually viewed it. Rate properties, schedule showings, and so much more.
