

Voiceter Pro®

Where real estate conversations start

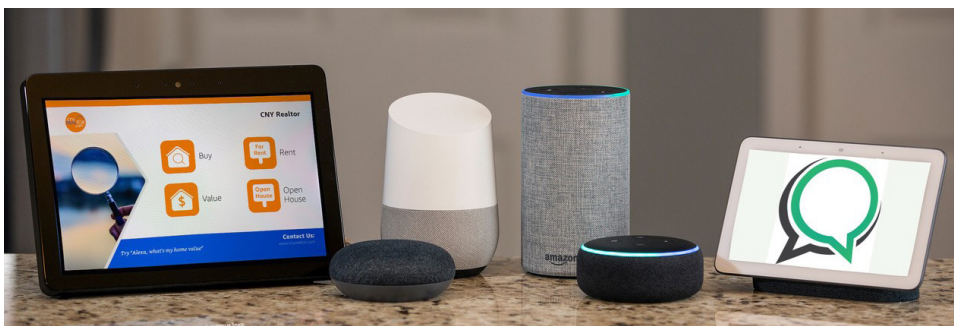

Millions of people use digital assistants every day—both on their phones and on smart speakers like Amazon™ Echo and Google Home™. With Voiceter Pro®, your multiple listing organization can connect with consumers through their favorite digital assistants at home and on the go.

With your own multiple listing branded voice application from Voiceter Pro, you can help consumers:

- Find homes that meet their needs
- Identify the ones with open houses
- Learn what their home is worth

When homebuyers use their voice to search for properties, Amazon Alexa™ or Google Assistant™ say the top three listings and send a branded email message with a link to the complete search results on your public website. Homebuyers and homeowners are prompted to continue the conversation with a local real estate professional.

Voiceter Pro gives you an intuitive, tech-savvy new way for consumers to look up your listing information—at home, in the car, or anywhere else. Establish your voice in real estate today with Voiceter Pro.
