

Trestle™

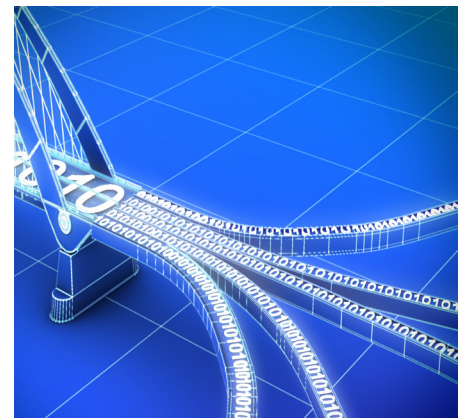

The ultimate destination for professional real estate data

Trestle by CoreLogic® is a national marketplace for multiple listing and property intelligence data, providing the vital information you need to power your business. Trestle is purpose-built to serve all kinds of data consumers, from small brokers and local businesses to the largest technology companies and national aggregators.

PLATFORM FEATURES

Used by multiple listing organizations across the nation for data licensing and distribution, Trestle handles the majority of the industry's active listings, making it the most convenient source of real estate data.

- Listing information from numerous multiple listing organizations in a single, aggregated data feed.
- Simple workflow for requesting, contracting, and paying for data.
- Convenient developer support by phone, email, and Slack chat.
- Broker tools for opting in/out of syndicator data feeds.

DATA FEEDS & FORMATS

The data you want, the way you want it

Trestle's powerful capabilities make it easy to acquire and integrate the real estate data you need—no matter who you are or what exactly you require.
