INRIX Drive Time™

Minutes, not miles

When people are searching for their dream home, they want a property that is close to work, school, daycare, or other important places. But we don't measure "close" as the crow flies—it's how long it takes to get there that matters. Commute time is critical.

INRIX Drive Time takes the guesswork out of calculating commutes. Fully integrated with the Matrix™ map search, INRIX lets you choose an important location and see which listings fall within the desired commute time. You can easily visualize commute times from multiple locations at different times of day and on different days of the week. No need to draw a complex search area on a map—INRIX does it for you automatically.

INRIX Drive Time is powered by the largest driving intelligence network in the world. INRIX analyzes real-time data from a variety of public and private sources, including government road sensors, official accident reports, and real-time traffic speeds crowd-sourced from a community of more than 275 million vehicles and mobile devices across the nation. The system automatically accounts for common factors such as the season, local holidays, weather, accidents, road construction, and more.

According to an NAR survey, 73% of new home buyers consider drive time to work as a key decision factor.
